About Hyde Park

Welcome to Hyde Park!

Hyde Park has a long tradition of welcoming guests to our community. We have been at the forefront of academic, political and cultural history dating back to The Chicago World’s Fair of 1893. Our list of distinguished Hyde Parkers includes six Nobel Prize laureates, first ladies Mary Todd Lincoln and Michelle Obama, lawyer Clarence Darrow, boxer and activist Muhammad Ali, Cook County Board President Toni Preckwinkle and former United States President Barack Obama.

Your Hyde Park Chamber of Commerce is committed to advocating for you, informing you of pertinent issues that affect your business, and facilitating relationships that can lead to new business opportunities. Thank you for being a part of our community. It has been a busy year for us. We conducted over fifty events for members to meet one another and build relationships that can lead to new business opportunities. We love Hyde Park’s past and are excited for Hyde Park’s future. Harper Court’s new shops, office tower, movie theater and a Hyatt hotel have ignited a wave of economic development. Two large residential buildings, a second new shopping center, the Polsky ExChange and a boutique hotel have all strengthened Hyde Park’s global presence. Our neighborhood is changing and new businesses are on the way. However, Hyde Parkers prefer to do business with those they know and trust. The Chamber can facilitate these relationships. We encourage you to use our services and attend our events. We look forward to meeting you.

Sincerely,

Paula Jones
President, Board of Directors

Executive Director

About

HYDE PARK

“Chicago’s Jewel on the Lake.”

Hyde Park is an extraordinary place to live, study, and raise a family.

From top-rated academic institutions, exceptional health care, vast acres of parkland, a diversity of places to worship, to outstanding housing options, Hyde Park is a neighborhood committed to families, students and seniors.
Community Overview

academic institutions

From preschool through high school, Hyde Park’s 17 public, parochial, and private schools offer parents a wide variety of educational choices. Among the many options are Ray Elementary School, recently named an Illinois State Board of Education “Model School”; Murray Language Academy, a top-ranked magnet school; Akiba-Schechter, the only Jewish Day School on Chicago’s South Side, and Saint Thomas the Apostle, Hyde Park’s only Catholic School. For younger children, the Parent Cooperative for Early Learning offers a play-based preschool environment. The University of Chicago plays a key role in educating area children. The University’s Laboratory Schools, founded in 1896 by philosopher and education reformer John Dewey, educates nearly 1,700 students each year, while the University of Chicago Charter School’s four campuses serve as national models of urban education at its best. For more information, please check the Schools and Education sections of our business directory.

arts & culture

As a neighborhood with gems like the DuSable Museum of African American History, Frank Lloyd Wright’s Robie House, the Oriental Institute and the Museum of Science and Industry, Hyde Park is rapidly becoming known as Chicago’s Culture Coast. Hyde Park has a rich music tradition, including a weekly Sunday Jazz series. In 2007, the Hyde Park Cultural Alliance, the Hyde Park Jazz Society, and the University of Chicago launched the Hyde Park Jazz Festival. Annually, the Hyde Park Chamber of Commerce, in collaboration with the Chicago Park District, South East Chicago Commission, the University of Chicago, the SSA, Nichols Park Advisory Council and Hyde Park Bank collaborate to host Downtown Hyde Park, consisting of 4th on 53rd, the neighborhood Fourth of July celebration, Sunday Summer Concerts, a Children’s Book Fair, Hyde Park Dinner Crawl, Hyde Park BrewFest, Silver Room Block Party, and Holly Days. The Hyde Park Art Center presents regular exhibitions of Chicago-area artists’ work and offers classes for children and adults. Every June, 57th St. and Kimbark Avenue becomes a bustling open-air market for top-quality arts and crafts as the 57th St. Art Fair (the oldest community art fair in Chicago) brings artists from across the U.S. and Canada to the neighborhood. Many Hyde Park booksellers, including Powell’s Bookstore, the Seminary Co-op and 57th St. Books, host frequent book signings, and meet-the-author events. The Gilbert & Sullivan Opera Company, founded by a group of Hyde Parkers in 1960, presents an annual comic opera; the Hyde Park Community Players, founded in 2009 and Court Theatre’s professional ensemble present outstanding theater; while the Hyde Park School of Dance, iTwirl Dance, and Marsha’s Music Together have established reputations as premiere players in the development of musicians and dancers of all ages. Stroll down any of Hyde Park’s tree-lined streets, or take a Hyde Park Historic Society walking tour and you are sure to find buildings like the neoclassical Museum of Science and Industry, built for the World’s Columbian Exposition of 1893; Frank Lloyd Wright’s Prairie-style Robie House; Ludwig Mies van der Rohe’s first high-rise; and the Gothic quadrangles of the University of Chicago campus, that delight the eye and capture the imagination.
health & wellness

Hyde Park is one of the best places to be if you’re sick or just want great preventive care. For the 10th time in 12 years, U.S. News & World Report selected Hyde Park’s own University of Chicago Medical Center as one of the best hospitals in the United States. The Medical Center, which prides itself on being at the forefront of medicine, includes two new hospitals; Center for Discovery and Level 1 Trauma Center as well as the University of Chicago Comer Children’s Hospital, which specializes in state-of-the-art care in a family-friendly environment. Also under the Medical Center umbrella are the Duchossois Center for Advanced Medicine, an outpatient facility; the Pritzker school of Medicine; and several health care locations throughout the Chicago region. In 2018, the Medical Center’s nursing staff earned the American Nurses Credentialing Center’s highest award for excellence.

parks & recreation

Hyde Park’s myriad of opportunities for recreation begin at the lakefront. Promontory Point juts out into the lake, providing spectacular views of downtown and a fine spot for a picnic. The Point connects to the Park District’s Lakefront Path, allowing Hyde Parkers to bike, walk, or jog for miles along the shore with no worries about traffic.

At Jackson Park, you can watch sailboats in the harbor, play golf and tennis, swim at the sandy 57th street beach, watch birds on the Wooded Isle, or imagine yourself miles away from the city in the Osaka Japanese Garden. Stretching from Jackson Park to Washington Park, Midway Plaisance, a legacy of the World’s Columbian Exposition of 1893, provides a welcome swath of green all along the southern end of the neighborhood. Its gardens, summer movies and concerts, and winter ice skating rink make it a favored recreational choice all year. Walking and running routes pass by Robie House, Rockefeller Chapel, Oriental Institute, University of Chicago Quadrangles, and the Fountain of Time. Numerous other smaller parks and playgrounds dot Hyde Park, giving young and old alike plenty of opportunity for outdoor recreation.

Looking for indoor recreation? The Hyde Park Neighborhood Club is a good place to start. It offers an after-school program and youth athletics including boys and girls basketball, roller derby, and tumbling. The Club also hosts a charity co-ed basketball league. The Hyde Park Jewish Community Center runs a popular summer day camp as well as classes and sports leagues for children and adults. For bowling and billiards, head to Seven Ten Lanes on 55th St.
shopping
Shop local and shop Hyde Park first! From 47th Street on the north to 57th Street on the south, from jewelry and clothing boutiques to Whole Foods, Hyde Park stores and shops have what you want. Visit several smaller food stores/markets: For fresh produce, head to Open Produce on 55th Street, Hyde Park Produce on 53rd Street, and from June through October, visit the Thursday morning Farmers Market in Harper Court. On 57th Street there are Harper Foods and 57th Street Wines. Not to be overlooked among Hyde Park’s unique shopping destinations are the stores connected with museums and other cultural attractions. Worth a visit, for example, are the gift shops at the Museum of Science and Industry, the DuSable Museum of African American History, the Oriental Institute, and Robie House. For more on shops and services in the neighborhood, please refer to the Chamber’s Business Directory.

worship
Hyde Park’s diversity is reflected in its many opportunities for worship and fellowship. All major religious faiths are represented, as are many that are less well known. Residents and visitors can visit churches, synagogues, or a mosque. Rockefeller Memorial Chapel sponsors an annual Interfaith Thanksgiving Service that draws together the University of Chicago and the community. The Hyde Park-Kenwood Interfaith Council serves as an umbrella group for religious organizations in the neighborhood and is among the oldest such groups in the nation.
